

Pendine Sands, Carmarthenshire

“Pendine Sands will take your breath away with 8 miles of golden sand before you. The home of the land speed record, this special place has witnessed motor history multiple times, as land speed records have been made and broken there.”
ALISON ROBERTS, WALES COAST PATH OFFICER

Start and Finish:

Centre of Pendine village in a pay and display car park.

Distance:

1 km / 0.75 mile.

Extended walk: From Gillman Point back to Pendine village via road B4314 is 2km / 1 mile.

Information:

Start your journey at the Augmented Reality panel situated outside in front of ‘Tea by the Sea’ cafe. Here, you use your mobile device (phone or tablet) with the Wales Coast Path app to drive the Blue Bird racing car and join Amy Johnson on her flight to America before heading west along the seafront. Follow the Wales Coast Path, taking the steep steps up to the top of the cliff at Gillman Point, the views over Morfa Bychan are well worth the climb and effort! You can return the same way or for the more energetic, you can carry on to the small beach at Morfa Bychan and turn right on a signposted track which heads uphill.

Where the track forks, you turn right and head towards the B4314 road back to Pendine village.

Along the way...

Look out for the largest colony of seabirds in Carmarthenshire and make sure you take your camera to capture glorious open views of the longest beach on the Wales Coast Path, Pendine Sands.
